Advocate Health Care and Harris & Harris Work Together for Healthy Outcomes

Reprinted from the Advocate Charitable Foundation "Vital Impact" Newsletter, May 2010

Harris & Harris recently increased its philanthropic commitment to Advocate. In the second year paying off a five-year $25,000 pledge to sponsor galas, social events and golf outings benefiting several Advocate hospitals, Corporate Partner Harris & Harris recently made an additional charitable gift of $20,000 to Advocate Health Care. Half of the gift will support Advocate's Healthy Steps program, which helps primary-care providers and parents identify developmental delays in young children in time for early intervention. The other half will support the production of training and educational materials for Advocate's patient-safety initiative. "The more we learn about the good work that Advocate is doing across the Chicago area, the more we want to support its mission," says Arnie Harris, president of the Chicago-based collection agency and law firm. "Our company is known nationwide for our compassionate approach, our ethical practices and our commitment to treat every patient with dignity and respect. We see those same values in action at Advocate."
